

Note: It is important that your conference presentation and technical paper be given and written in a non-commercial way that is technical, and educational, and contains data to support the topic. Brand names/trademarks and patented technologies must be referenced using a generic term or terms. Product promotions will not be accepted.

ABSTRACT PREPARATION QUESTIONS

1. Please describe the challenge in water treatment and/or high-purity chemicals for microelectronics that your topic addresses. (2-3 sentences max)

2. Please discuss the specific technical problem your presentation addresses, including the relevant data to prove your solution works. (2-3 sentences max)

3. Please discuss the novel use or innovation for water treatment and/or high-purity chemicals that your presentation will address in microelectronics manufacturing. (Note: On occasion, there may be a relevant topic that is primarily educational. Should your topic better fit into that category, please explain the box below, and in your abstract why your proposed presentation is of value to our audience.)

In the space below, please write two or three well-developed paragraphs that explain your proposed presentation. Please include the problem statement, your proposed novel innovation, and the type of data you plan to present. (Abstracts should be shorter than 500 words)

COPYRIGHT LICENSE AGREEMENT

WHEREAS, the author(s) whose name(s) appear(s) on this License Agreement (hereinafter the "Author") owns the entire right, title and interest in the copyright in the work described above (hereinafter the "Work") and desires to submit the Work for presentation and publication at the Ultrapure Micro Conference (hereinafter the "Conference"); AND WHEREAS, Media Analytics Ltd. (hereinafter "Media Analytics") is the organizer and publisher of the proceedings of the Conference and is desirous of protecting and securing certain limited rights including rights under the copyright owned by Author; In consideration of the opportunity to submit the Work for review, consideration and possible publication and contribution to the Conference and other valuable consideration,

AUTHOR HEREBY GRANTS TO MEDIA ANALYTICS THE FOLLOWING RIGHTS AND AGREES TO THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS:

1. The right of first publication for the Work in both printed and electronic forms. This included the use of portions of text and graphics from presentations in any Media Analytics publications.
2. An exclusive license to publish the Work in its technical journals and anthologies of technical journal articles in any and all languages throughout the world, both in printed and electronic editions, for the period of one year after the date of its first publication, and a nonexclusive license to publish, and republish, the Work after the expiration of the one year period, both in printed and electronic editions or as digital files.
3. The right, in its discretion, to revise, condense, abridge, expand, retile or rewrite the Work to suit its requirements.
4. The right to use Author's name, biography and likeness to publicize or advertise publications containing the Work.
5. If the Work is subsequently used wholly or in part in a book, technical or non-technical publication or for audio-visual purposes, Author shall provide that suitable credit in a footnote on the first page thereof is given to the medium of first publication.
6. Author covenants not to copy the published Work for sale, but may copy the published Work for personal, or commercial purposes for which copies of article are being distributed. Author may not post or distribute electronic version of Work prior to presentation at conference.
7. If Author desires to have the Work, or portions of the Work, republished elsewhere less than one year after its first publication by Media Analytics, a release for republication may be requested in writing. If the request is not contrary to the commercial interests of Media Analytics, release for such republication will not be withheld unreasonably, and the terms of the release shall be communicated to the Author in writing.
8. Author represents and warrants that Author is the only author(s) of the Work; that the Work is original and has not been heretofore published; that the Work does not infringe upon any copyright, proprietary right or any other right whatsoever; that it contains no matter that is contrary to law; and that the Author is the sole owner of the rights herein conveyed to Media Analytics, and that such rights are free and clear. Author represents and warrants that his presentation of the Work at the Conference shall be free of scandalous, libelous or other unlawful material and hereby indemnifies and holds harmless Media Analytics for any expense, including attorney's fees, which Media Analytics may sustain by reason of any cause of action arising out of the Author's presentation at the Conference or the publication of the Work.
